LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.
(County Official Paper.)

By YARNELL, CAYSTILE, MATHES & OTIS.
OFFICE NO. 9 TEMPLE STREET.

Publishers' Announcements.

THE LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES has a regular, permanent, bona-fide circulation very much larger than any other daily paper published in Los Angeles, and approximating that of all the the other daily papers here. This claim we are prepared to substantiate. The TIMES has its own equitable scale of prices for advertising, based on circulation, and not on the prices charged by or paid to other papers.

THE TIMES can be found at the news-stands of the Palace and Occidental Hotels and Russ House, San Francisco.

THE TIMES OFFICE is connected with the telephone system of this city, and those desiring to advertise in or subscribe for this paper can do so by this means.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.—The proprietors of the TIMES will pay a reward of $10 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person stealing the TIMES from the doors of of its subscribers.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED from all quarters on live topics. Local affairs and news given the preference. Correspondents are asked to cultivate brevity, clearness and timeliness, ty use one side of the sheet only, to write plainly, and to send real name. Unless so verified, contributions will receive no attention.

PRINTING.—There is nothing in the printing line which the TIMES-MIRROR Printing, Binding and Ruling House is not prepared to execute in a manner equal to that of any office in the State. New types, new inks, and the very best quality of paper and cards, together with artistic workmanship, guarantee the execution of superior work.

BOOK-BINDING.—Books, magazines and pamphlets bound in Turkish leather, Morocco cloth, sheepskin, or in any style desired at the TIMES-MIRROR Bindery. Our Bindery is complete in all its arrangements, and work guaranteed to be equal to that done in San Francisco.

CROOK AND THE CHIRICAHUAS.

The Prescott, A. T., Courier takes this view of the Chiricahua problem: "Our Government and that of Mexico should combine for their destruction. Crook, if aided by the Mexican authorities and soldiers, would very soon encompass them and break their power. He cannot do so as long as they can fly into Mexico and hide in its mountains. It is to this phase of the question, and not to growling at soldiers, that the great military critics of the Tombstone press should turn their attention." There is a degree of frozen truth, perpendicular sense and mild sarcasm about the above, which pleases us mightily, and if we were a member of the British Parliament, (which, happily for us and Parliament, we are not,) we should cry "Hear! hear!" with great gusto to the remarks of the gentleman from Prescott who has the floor. It is our opinion, based upon no little personal knowledge and much observation of General George Crook as a commander and campaigner, that he is going to astonish the natives, both red and white, in Arizona, one of these days, by the vigor and thoroughness with which he will solve the Indian problem, clear the country of hostiles, and restore it to peace and order. Boys of the Arizona press, give "Old George" a chance, and then if he fails we will only be too happy to see you wrestle with the armed and hostile red man in the field. Do not understand us to intimate for one moment that each and every one of you is not a veteran and valiant Jomini, replete with grand tactics, Indian strategy and beer—(remote from us be the ungenerous thought!)—but we would like to see a plain, unpretending Brigadier-General of the United States Army first have a lick at the hostile Apaches and Chiricahuas, and perhaps he can send them whirling over the line into the arms of Governor Pesquiera's troops without the necessity of calling into requisition the priceless services of the old soldiers and able strategists of the Arizona newspaper press.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

Hon. David Davis, late President of the Senate and acting Vice-President of the United States, arrived in this city on Sunday evening, and last evening ex-Lieutenant-Governor Dorsheimer, of New York, and Charles A. Dana, editor of the New York Sun, arrived. It would be in perfect order for this city to show these distinguished gentlemen some courtesies, either by a public reception or by private, personal attention on the part of the city officials. Where are our representative Democrats, and are they taking steps to respond to the demands of courtesy, and make a favorable impression upon the minds of our eminent visitors? Certainly some recognition of their services and position is due, and the TIMES hopes that his honor, the Mayor, will not be wanting in municipal courtesies on this occasion.

A WILD and exciting rumor is floating about on the circumambient semi-civic air. It is borne down from the north by an up-country exchange, and the effect that a new Democratic daily is soon to be established in Los Angeles, "after the style of the Examiner with Major Ben. C. Truman as editor and manager. The TIMES, which leads the whole of them, receives this alarming report with great joyousness and hilarious satisfaction—a fact very the feelings of the morning and evening brethren of Democratic proclivities!

WIGGIN, at a public meeting in San Francisco on Monday night, advocated that women school teachers in the city within a week have felt the influence of their positions to be so insecure that they have gone to the support of a party boss in the endeavor to retain their places. We agree with the Anti-Union that if this be true, it is a disgraceful fact as to put San Francisco to shame. It demands immediate investigation.

It is a mistake. The San Francisco Examiner is not for Field for Governor but square "agin" him, it appears on account of the attitude the Democracy has taken on the Chinese question—the anti-monopoly issue. The Examiner is a astute organ, with both eyes on the hindsight.

The Teachers' Institute, now in progress in Los Angeles, has drawn to the city from every school district in the county, who are wrestling with the various mooted questions which confront the profession. A full report of the proceedings of the Institute will appear in our local columns.

The Bakersfield exchange says the Hon. P. Irish, of the Oakland Times, is often "mentioned" in connection with the next U. S. Senatorship. There is a vein of humor in that town.

Emma Bond's Eye to Business.

From the Stockton Herald.]

About half a year ago the press contained accounts of a shameful outrage committed upon Miss Emma Bond, a young school teacher of Taylorsville, Illinois. The ruffians who were accused of ravishing her were taken from jail by the citizens and hanged to a tree, but were let down again in order to make them confess. The half-choked wretches still protested their innocence and their lives were spared. At short intervals ever since dispatches have come concerning the condition of the girl, who has repeatedly been reported to be at the point of death. Tons of editorials have been written in a sympathetic strain of this innocent, intelligent and refined girl, lying prostrated in body and all but crazed by reason of the physical shock and unbearable shame of the outrage. How deserved all this sympathy has been may be judged from the following advertisement, which appeared in the Chicago Times a few days ago:

PERSONAL—EMMA BOND'S PICTURES—I By repeated urging of friends Emma Bond has permitted her pictures, cabinet size, to be sold. Any orders, inclosing $1, will receive prompt attention. Address EMMA BOND, Taylorville, Ill.

It is evident that Emma Bond is shameless. If she ever was outraged against her expressed wish and intention, it is certain that her sufferings in consequence—if she has suffered—have been purely physical. Her effort to turn into money the peculiar notoriety that has been given her is one of the most extraordinary strokes of business enterprise ever heard of. There is a dreadful possibility that the attention of theatrical advertisers will be attracted to it, and then instead of stories of actresses being robbed of diamonds, we may ere long have flaming and harrowing accounts of their loss of a still more precious jewel than the sparkling stone. If this fear be realized, there will be a deep and general regret that Emma Bond's ruffians—if they ever existed—did not kill her when they were at it.

Gould's Empire.

Chicago Times.]

Some staggering figures are given by a New Orleans journal regarding Jay Gould's ownership of and investment in railways. The statement assumes that he has purchased, as reported, the East Line and Red River Railroad, from Jefferson to Greenville, Texas. It also includes the mileage of the Texas and Pacific to El Paso, of which there are about 250 miles yet incompleted; the unfinished lines in the New Orleans Pacific, which will be closed in October, the extension of the Iron Mountain road to Camden, and from Knober to the Louisiana line; the unfinished links in the Missouri Pacific from Fort Worth to Austin, and from San Antonio to Laredo, all of which will be finished soon. On this basis of calculation Gould's mileage of railways foots up as follows:

Texas and Pacific	1396
Missouri Pacific	2952
Galveston, Houston and Henderson	50
East Line and Red River	125
Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific (including from Danville to Vincennes and Cairo)	2746
Union Pacific system	4546
Total Gould mileage	11,718

It will be seen that about 2400 miles of Gould's lines are in Texas and 340 miles in Louisiana. The above table does not include Gould's Mexican line, the Mexican Oriental Interoceanic and International Railroad, which will embrace 1200 miles. Add this, and the mileage of the Gould systems is augmented to 13,000 miles. Rating the Western Union Telegraph at $86,000,000, and the capital of the Mexican road at $50,000,000, the investments in what are known as the Gould properties are as follows:

Texas and Pacific	$69,200,000
Missouri Pacific	100,000,000
Galveston, Houston and Henderson	2,500,000
East Line and Red River	5,000,000
Wabash St. Louis and Pacific	93,600,000
Union Pacific	180,000,000
Western Union Telegraph	86,200,000
Mexican Oriental, &c., R. R.	50,000,000
Total	646,500,000

Clipping Queues.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.]

The State law providing that the hair of criminals shall be cut to within three inches of the scalp went into effect Tuesday. It is intended as a punishment of Chinese and is similar to the celebrated "queue" ordinance which Sheriff Nunan attempted to enforce some years ago and which the combined wisdom of Justice Field and Judge Sawyer declared unconstitutional so far as the Mongolians are concerned. The new law was put in force at the House of Correction on Tuesday and nineteen pagan queues were shorn, much to the anger and disgust of their owners. In the County Jail there are nearly always from fifty to one hundred Chinese "doing time," but so far these have escaped the loss of their ornaments. Sheriff Connolly remembers several damage suits instituted against Nunan by incensed prisoners, and has his attorney engaged in investigating his liability and the constitutionality of the law before proceeding with the curtailment.

An Unyielding Grip on a Prisoner.

From the Santa Ana Standard.]

A few days ago a countryman came to town to have a little fun, and while he was enjoying himself he yelled a little too loud to suit our peace officers and he was arrested. Criminal business has been so light for some time that our Common Council decided to rent the city prison, and at the time of this arrest it was occupied as a corn bin and the prisoner was locked up in a room in the hotel; but the officer soon received word that his charge had removed the lock from the door and fled. He was soon recaptured and returned to the hotel. The officer having other duties to attend to could not guard him constantly, and a new and novel way of holding a prisoner without lock or key dawned upon him. He simply removed the offender's hat and pantaloons and took them down stairs, when the man was quite content to remain in the room and made no further attempt to escape.

Desert Prospectors.

San Bernardino Index, 4th.]

D. T. Huston and George Craig came in last night from a three weeks trip to the desert on the borders of Inyo county. They went to locate an old mine and got there just one day too late. This particular locality in what is called Butte District, had not been visited for many years. The prospectors found ghastly evidences of an Indian fight at some previous time, in the shape of eight human skeletons. The fact that a dozen little forts were thrown up around, leads to the conclusion that they died in a fight with Indians. The bones were bleached white and the bodies had long decayed. Butte (or Silver Spring) District is on the division line between Inyo and San Bernardino county, and is about 230 miles from this city.

Peculiar Complexion of a Democratic Legislature.

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Our gifted, erratic friend, Maj. Edwards, has long avowed his desire to have Democracy in Missouri so strong that it could elect "a Comanche Indian or a yellow dog" to any office it might please. There are no Comanche Indians that we know of in the present Legislature, but if the majority would only sit on their hind legs and bark they would run a good chance of passing for yellow dogs.

G. G. Briggs, proprietor of the largest raisin vineyard in the State, has tested several varieties of grapes for raisins, viz: the flame-colored Tokay, the cannon-ball Muscat, the Muscat of Alexandria, the Muscatello Gordo Blanco, and has finally settled on the last-named grape, the Muscatello, as the best adapted for raisins. The asbestine sub-irrigation system in Mr. Briggs's vineyard near Davisville has been extended until he has now about ten miles of main concrete 12-inch pipe and some 200 miles of distributing-pipe of different sizes, made of the same material.

Fifty years ago shad were sold on the Susquehanna river at $4 per one hundred.

BEN. BUCKBOARD.

Ben. Buckboard was a driver gay,
Who sought the hand in marriage
Of Carrie Hall, (quite rich) they say,
A girl of noble carriage.

Now Ben. was smart, and off did start
To the firm of Rees & Wirsching,
And a buggy he bought, strong and neatly wrought,
So now Carrie's coin he's disbursing.

Of course the other fellow "got left," and to save him and others from a similar source of sadness, we use this vehicle to inform them that we are makers and importers of fine Buggies, Farm and Spring Wagons and farming Implements. We are proud to connect our name with the Newton Wagon, which we have so long handled here. It is made specially for this climate, and is better ironed, better painted, runs lighter, and gives better satisfaction than any wagon sold in this market. We buy for cash and in car-load lots, and can, therefore, sell as low as those dealing in inferior stock. Agents for D. M. Osborne & Co.'s Mowers and Reapers. Old wagons repaired and painted, and taken in part payment for new ones.

Santa Ana Valley.

Items condensed from Standard, April 7th.]

Lotspeich Bros., large orange growers in Orange settlement, lately sent a few sample boxes of their fruit to a commission merchant in the East, and in return received a letter saying that they were finer than the best Valencia oranges, selling at $7.50 to $8.00 per box.

The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company have about decided to line the irrigating ditches with asphaltum.

A saloon has been opened at Orange by the proprietors of the Anaheim Brewery.

A large volume of water is now going to waste in the river. All the irrigating ditches are not sufficient to carry it.

Thirty heads of water are now being delivered by the S. A. V. I. Co. The dam is now repaired and the ditches are all full of water.

The bee-keepers in the Santiago mountains report the bees doing better than they have in several years. Since the heavy rains in the mountains the prospect was never better for an abundant honey crop.

The wild geese have about all left these parts for Alaska, their summer resort. A small band, supposed to be the rear guard, left the mesa this week.

It will soon be time for the ocean bather along our coast to feel with his foot for the flappers of the festive stingaree.

A gentleman who has been shipping some choice oranges informs us that he packed a box the present week which contained only eighty-five.

P. Potts, of Tustin, last Monday made J. W. Gardner an offer of one thousand dollars for his pair of Shetland ponies, and the proposition was refused. Mr. Potts wanted them for a friend in Los Angeles.

During the early part of the week there was more water in the Santa Ana river than has been known for the last two years. Crossing was dangerous above the point where the water for irrigation is taken from the river.

The question has often been asked if an attempt has ever been made to get artesian water in the town of Santa Ana. The fact is not generally known that ten years ago Mr. Spurgeon bored an artesian well to a depth of 350 feet, and struck a stream of water that rose above the surface. In a few months, however, it commenced to fail, and the tools were again put in to go down for a stronger flow, but the borers got the tools fast in the well, where they are at the present time. The pipe was then tapped at a depth of 288 feet, and a stream was struck which rises to within nine feet of the surface. This is the well that Santa Ana has been supplied from for many years.

A. S. Hamilton will probably soon put on a passenger carriage to run between Santa Ana and Orange. This would be convenient for the public.

A. B. Clark, of Orange, who left for Oakland about a month ago in hopes that the change might benefit his health, is now seriously ill at that place.

From the following it would appear that Orange is a good place to engage in the poultry business. Some time ago a lady placed under several setting hens 66 eggs, and the result was 66 chicks, and the entire number has been successfully raised.

A goose party was held at the residence of Mrs. C. E. French last Wednesday afternoon. A goose party is one from which gentlemen are excluded. One gentleman attended in disguise, and he declares that he never before heard such a chatter. He did not remain long.

R. M. Hargrave has produced four oranges which combined measure 56½ inches in circumference. The largest is 15½ inches. A portion of Mr. Hargrave's oranges were injured by the frost, but they have been almost entirely restored. The fruit, which was dry and flat, is now sweet and juicy.

Some Chinese living on a vegetable garden about two miles west of town got into a difficulty Thursday night, in which two Celestials named Ah Sing and Ah Wing cut one of their countrymen by the name of Ah Yim almost to pieces. He was carved in almost every portion of the body and recovery is said to be impossible. The Chinamen who did the cutting have left for parts unknown.

THE RAINS.

A Cloud-burst which Swept down Warm Creek.

From the San Bernardino Index, March 31.]

Under the genial guidance of W. Story, the representative of the Index yesterday evening traveled over a portion of the district almost flooded by the recent rains. Everywhere the indications of the heavy fall were abundant. Streams that ordinarily carried a few inches were augmented to double size, and in many instances overrunning their beds. Below Starke's Hotel the crossing of Warm Creek was about four feet deep, and the stream swift and muddy. It was impassable for light vehicles. A party of gentlemen were encountered here who had just come from the Santa Ana river, and they said it was impassable. The river was running a stream 200 yards wide, and at some points it was very deep.

Warm Creek was still sweeping out of Anderson's field at a terrific rate, carrying all manner of debris with it.

All along the road leading past Colonel Fudge's, Dick Stewart and Dan Rathbun's, were evidences of the heavy streams that had flowed during the heavy showers of the day and night.

It was not, however, till Base Line street was reached that the full violence of the storm was made apparent. The residents in the neighborhood of John Barton's place, Clews, Home's were ar used about two o'clock in the morning by the loud roar of rushing waters, and on looking out found they were completely surrounded by water. An investigation showed it to be about eighteen inches deep, and nothing but water could be seen as far as the eye could reach in the dim moonlight. Trees and fences went whirling past, and it was greatly feared that the houses must go. But the storm was severe and short. The waters subsided and by morning only small streams were running. John Barton says there must have been a cloud-burst in the mountains or foothills, as he had never seen that quantity of water in the severest storms. The water ploughed heavy channels through his farm, which would naturally prevent a repetition of an overflow. The road is piled full of debris. The debris had the odor of mountain shrubs, pine trees and acorns. Base Line street is badly cut up, and it will require some money to repair the damages.

We learn that the North Fork ditch was cut up by the flood, and that damage to the extent of $2000 was done.

The floods down the mountain cañons were tremendous. Down city creek cañon the waters did a great deal of damage, washing away fences, orchards, etc.

From Mr. Burton who was in town this evening, we learn that the steam bath house at Arrowhead Springs is washed away entirely, and a deep cut made that is now filled with boiling hot water. All roads to the springs are washed away, and Dr. Smith can neither get away on foot or on horseback. Boulders weighing tons were carried like feathers down the seething waters of Twin creek. The roads to the mountain mills are washed away.

Hon. Joseph A. Dodge, of Concord, N. H., President of one of the Boston and Montreal railroads, has purchased Mr. Winfield's place on Adams street, and will make this his home. Mr. Dodge is a prominent man at his home, an eminent man in his profession, and will prove a valuable acquisition to Los Angeles. It is just such people that will give our city a social and financial standing so desirable in all cities. It is encouraging to note that many of this class are making residences here.

Sherman's Horses.

Los Angeles is to be favored with another visit from that very clever show managed by Sherman & Co., and known as "Sherman's Educated Horses and Great European Circus." It will be remembered by those who visited the former exhibition by the same company that it was a performance of more than ordinary merit and well worth the price of admission. The attractions have lately been greatly increased, and the exhibition in this city, which will take place April 25th, will undoubtedly be worthy of the patronage of our people.

The Races.

At the races yesterday the class was 2:30, but the horses did not quite come up to that mark. But two horses contested—Max and Democrat. Max won the first heat in 2:49. Democrat won the second in 2:39, and Max took the next two in 2:43 and 2:42½.

A Portable Fire Escape.

Dr. Burk has invented a portable fire escape which promises to be a fine thing. See it operate this afternoon.

Truck Gardening.

A farmer living near Azusa is reported to have cleared nearly $700 this season from his sales of early green peas in the San Francisco market. Mr. T. A. Saxton then delivered a brief address of welcome, in which he urged the importance of each teacher's taking an active part, and contributing his share to the work of the Institute.

Mr. J. C. Handsaker read a short paper on "School Library Books," in which he said: "The importance of the subject demands serious consideration. Great care should be taken to put proper books into the hands of young readers, as their whole after life may be determined by their early reading. Those books that create a vitiated taste should be sedulously avoided. The teacher should make persistent, continued and systematic efforts to elevate the taste of the pupils under his charge. Poor books in libraries are due to the carelessness or incompetency, or both, of teachers and school trustees, but chiefly to that of teachers, since, in most cases, the matter of the choice of school library books devolves upon them.

Mr. H. W. Stanton spoke on the same subject. He said that a more thorough and generous culture is needed on the part of teachers to enable them to bring within the reach of their pupils much of real culture of the time. He adverted especially to the theory of Evolution, claiming that although it is as firmly established as gravitation, comparatively few teachers know enough about it to express an intelligent opinion upon it, much less to unfold it to their pupils.

Mr. W. H. Henderson, being called upon, said: School libraries should not contain, chiefly, such books as, "Alice in Wonderland," but should include authors of the highest order,—Emerson, Macaulay, Bacon, Milton and Shakspeare. The teacher should be the interpreter of difficult authors to his pupils. The school course includes so much, that time is not allowed to the teacher for his stopping to a book or an author, but the speaker recommended that the teacher take time for the full explication of a good thought or an elevating idea. He doubted the propriety of introducing works on evolution, as suggested by the previous speaker.

Miss Starr objected to "St. Nicholas" on account of its appealing too much to the imagination, the tendency of which is to create a vitiated taste, and a morbid craving for novels in which the situations are highly unreal, and the style stilted and exaggerated.

Mr. Guinn recommended that each school-library contain numerous books of reference, as well as several periodicals. The teacher should direct the reading of his pupils. The speaker recommended that the teacher take some current event and see that his pupils refer to such books in the library as may bear upon the subject.

State Superintendent Welcker added a few words, after which a short recess was taken.

On resuming, after a song, Mr. O. N. Rainey read a paper on "The Relation between Teacher and Parent," in which he said that the parents of those pupils who may be disinclined to attend school must be reached, and that it must be done chiefly through the children of such parents. He did not believe in more visiting of parents than courtesy or the peculiar circumstances might demand.

Mr. J. C. Oliver, in continuing the discussion of the subject, said that the relation between parent and teacher may be disturbed—

1st. By parents having false ideas of school government, or of what is proper to be taught.

2d. By indifference on the part of parents.

3d. By indifference on the part of the teacher. You must impress the pupils with the belief that you are really interested in their welfare.

4th. By injudicious remarks on the part of either pupil, parent or teacher. The teacher should be extremely careful not to create antagonisms, or to deepen them if any exist.

5th. By incompetency on the part of either teacher or trustees. Trustees should not necessarily be parents. Indeed, this very thing frequently incapacitates them for the impartial discharge of their duties.

Supt. Welcker read a circular letter having reference to the new law, which provides that students may enter the State University without being obliged to first graduate from a high school, some of the points of which are given:

The new law directs that all schools, unless otherwise provided by law, must be divided into primary and grammar grades, and directs the County Boards of Education on or before the first day of July, 1883, to prescribe the course of study in each grade. They are also to arrange a course of study to prepare students to enter the scientific department of the University, to be divided into four grades, requiring one year to each grade, this to be known as the Grammar School Course, and may be taught in any school district which may so elect.

If such course be chosen, it shall take the place of the course prescribed for the Grammar grade. Examinations are to be held at least twice each school year, and scholars passing satisfactorily are to be promoted, and those who pass the full course will receive diplomas certifying to the fact.

This new law can be taken advantage of by any district financially able to employ a grammar grade teacher in addition to the necessary primary force, and furnishes a system by which the young people of that district may enjoy the benefits of the University.

Candidates for the University for courses leading to a degree will be required to write a composition upon a subject announced at the time of the examination. They will also be obliged to correctly analyze sentences from the works used in preparation, and pass an examination in the elements of prose composition.

They will also be examined in mathematics, as follows: In arithmetic, the higher courses, in algebra, plain geometry, and those who intend to pursue special courses in science should prepare themselves for examination in the following additional subjects: Solid and spherical geometry, advanced algebra, plain trigonometry, plain analytical geometry.

Candidates must also pass a satisfactory examination in certain branches of history and geography, and any two of the following subjects: Physics, chemistry, botany, physiology, free-hand drawing, and mineralogy.

Candidates for the Course of Letters and Science, and for either of the Courses in Science, must pass not only in the above studies, but also have a more extensive examination in history and English. A candidate may take all his examinations either in June or in August, but if he fails in his June examination he will not be admitted to the August examinations the same year.

A satisfactory examination as indicated above will admit the student to a full standing in the Freshman's class in either of the five colleges of the University. The President and Faculty assure Professor Welcker that they will do everything in their power to facilitate the entrance of the young men and women of the State into the University. Applicants who have not had the opportunity to attend a school in which complete preparation for the University is offered, may, on passing a good general examination, enter a partial course in either of the Colleges of Science, with the privilege of gaining full standing whenever he makes up his deficiencies. There are other provisions in this scheme by which students, not having the advantages of High Schools, will be assisted by the Faculty as much as possible, and the new plan will give every student in the State an even chance to receive all the benefits of the highest of the State's educational institutions.

The Institute then adjourned to 7:30, when a reception was given the teachers from abroad, which was a pleasant occasion.

A Deserved Promotion.

The Stockton Mail of March 31 contained the following:

L. E. Mosher, who has been agent of the Central Pacific Railroad Company in this city for nearly three years past, has been promoted to Los Angeles, and will leave with his family for that city on Monday. Los Angeles is second in importance among the railroad points on the coast, the company doing more business there than at any other place excepting San Francisco. Mr. Mosher has been in the service of the company for many years, and is regarded as one of their best men. He is a thorough railroad man, attentive to duties, courteous to all, and possesses various talents. He has written many bright things for the Mail under the nom de plume of "Hank Wagoner." One of his characteristic contributions enlivens this issue. One of Mr. Mosher's poems, "The Stranded Bugle," has been published in different journals and periodicals throughout the United States, and is acknowledged to be a gem. While Mr. Mosher's wide circle of friends in this city will regret his going away, they will be pleased to know that his worth is fully appreciated by the company to which he gives his services, and that he has been assigned to a more important point of duty.

Some Reserved Seats.

There were some persons who really had reserved seats at the Mamie Perry concert. So effectually had the reservation been made that after they had occupied the chairs through the performance, they still clung to them with the tenacity with which the grim messenger popularly supposed to do his errands with the assistance of a black horse, attaches himself to a deceased Senegambian. A number of very elaborate toilets were almost if not altogether ruined, from being torn or besmeared with varnish. One gentleman was obliged to wear his wife's shawl until the darkness of out doors made all things of a color, to prevent his becoming too prominent a feature in the aspect of the situation. It appears that the extra chairs placed in the hall had been newly varnished and the varnish adhered to everything with which it came in contact.

Wiley and Willmore's excursion will leave for Kansas City and Eastern points Thursday, April 19th. Parties going East will find it to their advantage to call at room 4, Pico Building.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.

One Successful in his Attempt and Another Makes a Failure.

Jacob Bumiller, the Wine-maker, Kills Himself with a Pistol—E. T. Mills Tries Poison and Fails.

About 9 o'clock last evening word was brought up town that Mr. Jacob Bumiller had committed suicide. A TIMES reporter immediately set about investigating the rumor, and proved it entirely true. Only the meager item could be learned that he had shot himself with a pistol at J. M. Donaldson's place, at Cahuenga Pass, early in the evening. He had been stopping at Donaldson's for about ten days, and had come in Saturday, but went back again the same evening at the solicitation of friends who thought it would be better to have him remain in the country. Coroner Nadeau, Messrs. E. F. Spence, G. A. Dobinson, B. F. Orr and E. Neitzke started out for the scene of the tragedy about 10 o'clock, and will bring in the body.

Mr Bumiller has been subject to fits of despondency for a year past, and about three months since grew much worse, and it was evident that he was losing his mind. About that time he sold his winery, which he had built only a short time previous above the depot near the river, and in his haste to dispose of it sold it at a loss of from $5000 to $10,000, and this circumstance tended to throw him into a deeper despondency, although he was well to do and in very good circumstances, his estate being worth now about $30,000. He conceived the idea of taking his life about a month ago, and applied to Dr. Heinzeman for laudanum or morphine. The Doctor asked him what he wanted with it, and he answered that he required it to induce sleep. The Doctor told him he would give him something else that would answer the same purpose, but that did not satisfy him, and before he left the store he acknowledged that he wanted the drug to kill himself with. On the day of the corner-stone laying at Ontario he loaded his gun and took it to his room, but his wife got it away from him and took it to a neighbor's. A razor was also taken from him, it is said, and latterly two more guns were added to the one already taken to the neighbor's. On Sunday about two weeks ago he took a dose of laudanum which he had procured somewhere, and physicians were summoned, who brought him out all right. It has only been a question of time when he would be successful in his attempts upon his life, and at last he has accomplished it. He was a native of Germany, aged about forty-five years. The Coroner's inquest will be held this morning.

THE UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT.

About 11 o'clock yesterday morning, E. T. Mills, well-known as the driver of the El Monte job wagon, was discovered in an almost unconscious condition by Dr. C. H. Edmonds on New High street, in the rear of the jail. The doctor rightly judged that the man had taken laudanum. Drs. Harrison, Maynard and Nadeau were each called, and after vigorous work for an hour or so brought him to consciousness, and soon after he was able to mount his wagon and drive home. He had procured the poison at Heinzeman's drug store, and had taken two ounces. He refused absolutely to give any reason for his rash act, answering all inquiries by saying that it was no business of theirs. Mr. Mills is one of the last persons one would expect to take his own life. He is of a genial, jovial disposition, always ready with a joke or a pleasant word, and what his motive was cannot even be conjectured. A few years ago he was addicted to drinking and drank very hard, but for some years past he has abjured the use of intoxicants entirely.

A Truly Gallant Ranchman.

A lively runaway took place on First street yesterday afternoon, but before any damage was done it was stopped in gallant style by a ranchman. A horse attached to an empty carriage came dashing up First street from Main, and as it was about to turn into Spring toward Second street, the ranchman, who had just driven up with a load of hay, jumped from his wagon, caught up with the runaway, grasped his mane, and with one bound he was on the horse's back, when he soon managed to stop him. A large crowd gathered to congratulate him on his pluck and daring, but he made his way out, and quickly drove off. His name could not be learned.
